Comments

Legislative micromanagement is not the solution to the rolling disaster we call our education system. The only thing to be said for this bill is that it might drive more parents out of the government school system.

Without measurement there is no growth. However, education and what growth is desired is a local (school board and community) issue. When extensive measurement is implemented, ESPECIALLY TO MEET FEDERAL STANDARDS TO RECEIVE FEDERAL FUNDS, they are out of place. Federal requirements are beyond the federal mandate. Our state needs to keep the federal government in its place and take its own place in the proper role of government.
